

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements by the Author	IX
1. Introduction	1
Sources and Methodology	4
Archival and Field Research in Chicago	7
2. Czech Emigration to the USA	9
The phenomenon of Emigration	10
Destination: Chicago	24
3. History of the City of Chicago and the Development of Czech Neighborhoods	29
First Czech Settlement	36
Prague and Other Settlements	39
Pilsen and Smaller Czech Districts	44
Czech California and Other Czech Districts	50
Cicero and Berwyn	55
Czech Neighborhoods after 1945	58
4. Economy and Workers	61
Workers and Socialism	62
Czech Entrepreneurs and Tradesmen	68
Focus: Life as an Entrepreneur in Chicago	76
5. Sociocultural and Religious Life of Czechs in Chicago	92
Cultural and Social Activities	93
Typology of Associations	99
Religious Life and the Freethinking Camp	106
Czech Periodicals in Chicago	111
Cultural Contacts with the Native Homeland	115

6. Political Engagement of the Czech Minority	119
Longtime Member of Congress: Adolph Joachim Sabath	124
Mayor of Chicago: Antonín Josef Čermák	129
Politicians from the Chicago Suburbs	137
7. Important Events in Czech Chicago	142
The Bohemian National Cemetery	149
The World's Columbian Exposition of 1893	161
Fighting for the Independence of the Motherland	173
The Eastland Steamship Disaster	181
The Chicago World's Fair, 1933-1934	188
The Czech Community in Chicago and the Second Resistance . . .	194
Conclusion	202
Bibliography	207
Editorial Note	227